

ARMS EMBARGO ON ITALY: NONE ON ETHIOPIA

CAPITULATION "IMPOSSIBLE" HAILE WIRES

Stands Firm as Italian Envoy Yields to His Demand

Copyright, 1935, By The Associated Press
Addis Ababa, Oct. 11.—The Italian minister to Ethiopia, Luigi Vinci-Gigliucci, yielded today to the demand of Emperor Haile Selassie that he get out of the country at once and announced that he and his aides would depart tomorrow.

His announcement came after a high Ethiopian official declared the envoy must leave of his own volition by 2 A. M. CST. tomorrow or be put out by force.

The Ethiopian government was not informed concerning reports that Aduha had been recaptured by the Ethiopians with heavy losses to the Italian forces there. The telephone lines from Addis Ababa to the north were broken.

Likewise, government officials said they had no knowledge of any fighting in the Ogaden sector.

Emperor Haile Selassie already had ordered the Italian envoy to leave the country on the charge that his legation was the center for Italian espionage and that the legation radio was being used for unfriendly purposes.

No Capitulation
Even as this diplomatic controversy was developing, the emperor informed the League of Nations that Ethiopia would never capitulate to Italy's armed forces—a declaration intended to end rumors that Ethiopia might make peace.

The King of Kings insisted that he would not put a premium on aggression by agreeing to a peaceful settlement of the conflict on the basis that Premier Mussolini retain Ethiopian territory occupied by his troops.

Diplomats regarded the note as evidence of a determination by the emperor to continue war rather than accept humiliating terms involving losses of valuable territory.

The emperor also announced his ratification of the Geneva protocol of 1925, prohibiting use of poison gas and bacteria in warfare.

Unconfirmed rumors circulating today said that Ethiopians recaptured Aduha from the Italians, suffering heavy losses but taking large quantities of Italian cannon, rifles and ammunition. Efforts were being made to ascertain the truth of these reports.

Little News from Front
The absence of information concerning actual fighting was attributed partly to the fact that the Italians appeared to have ceased active hostilities in the north and were engaged in consolidating positions already won.

Communications with the northern front, however, were still broken. Some reports said Emperor Haile Selassie had decided not to leave Addis Ababa at present, but to continue directing operations from the various fronts from the capital, assisted by his Ethiopian and foreign military advisers.

The capital awaited the arrival of two provincial armies from the west.

One force of 50,000, led by Ras Gueatchou Abata, governor of Kaffa province, and another of 30,000 under Dedjazmach Apte Marian, governor of Wallega, hastened to the defense of the city. Ras Imru, governor of Gojjam, arrived by plane from the north.

Year to Life Result of Holdup Netting $1

Edwardsville, Ill., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Two Granite City youths—Ray Wallace, 19, and Lorin Gentry, 19—were under sentence today of from one year to life imprisonment for a $1.20 holdup.

They were convicted yesterday by a circuit court jury of robbing Esle Kennerly and Miss Ruby Thomas near the Granite City community high school last July 2.

LAST VETERAN DEAD

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 11.—(AP)—William J. Bentley, 92, the last Civil War veteran in Homer township, Will county, was dead today. He served in Company F, 100th Illinois Infantry.

TYPHOID IN LITCHFIELD

Litchfield, Ill.—With 10 cases of typhoid fever recorded, city and county officials launched an investigation. Officials blamed a nearby milk supply as the possible source of the disease.

Adequate Alibi

Corpus Christi, Tex., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Willie Hazel, negro, had an excuse when he was accused of drunkenness after being found asleep beside an empty bottle on the courtroom floor.

"I heard a man was looking for me, Judge, and I figured this was the safest place for me to hide," said Willie.

Justice C. W. Briggs considered the explanation adequate.

CHRONIC HEART TROUBLE CAUSE CLOSE'S DEATH

Coroner Frank M. Banker of Franklin Grove conducted an inquest over the body of William H. Close at the Staples mortuary yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A verdict of death due to chronic heart trouble was returned by the jury composed of H. W. Morris, L. J. Little, W. C. Smith, William James, Charles Burke and E. L. Fulmer.

William H. Close was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., April 25, 1870 and for the past 45 years had followed his vocation as a blacksmith in Dixon. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Close of this city and one brother residing at Ketchikan, Alaska. His wife preceded him in death. Funeral services will be conducted from the Christian church Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. James A. Barnett officiating. Interment will be in the Grove Hill cemetery near Morrison in White-side county.

Mr. Close expired suddenly Thursday morning about 10 o'clock while returning to Dixon from the farm of Supervisor Leon Hart of Palmyra township, where he had shod a horse. He appeared to be in his usual good health and was conversing with Mr. Hart as the latter's car approached Drew's corner on the Lincoln highway, when he suddenly ceased conversation and slumped in the seat beside the driver. He was brought to the hospital where a physician pronounced him dead and the body was removed to the Staples mortuary.

Member Dixon Fire Department Nearly Bitten this Morn

Sam Cramer of the fire department was surprised and chagrined this morning as he went about his early duties of tidying up the city jail section of the city hall. He was in the act of adjusting the mattresses in the cell block, when something fell to the cement floor, to which he paid little attention. It was not until he swept out the cells that he discovered a complete set, upper and lower plates, of false teeth.

Rescuing the gaping false jaws from the rubbish, he launched an investigation which resulted in the finding of the owner, John Cook, colored, who was arrested yesterday afternoon by police when his wife complained of his disorderly actions and who had occupied the cell block during the night. This morning Cook was transferred from the city to the county jail when he failed to pay a fine of $10 and costs assessed against him by Justice Grover Gehant on a disorderly conduct charge. His artificial molars were delivered to him at the county jail by Patrolman John Bohnstiel, that he might partake of his breakfast without discomfort.

Balls and Chains for Benton's Prisoners

Benton, Ill., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Three eighteen pound balls attached to seven foot chains have been placed at the disposal of the Benton police department.

Prisoners unable to pay fines will be fastened to the ball and chains and placed on rock piles to work out their fines at $1.50 a day.

Rejected Lover of Rochester, N. Y. High School Girl Confesses Choking Her to Death

Monticello, N. Y., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Glenn Brasser, 22-year-old Rochester dayrman, was held under a heavy guard today after Corporal William Waldron of the state police said he confessed strangling Muriel Hall, Rochester high school student, because she preferred "another boy friend."

Corporal Waldron said Brasser, who was arrested last night near Liberty, N. Y., signed a two-page confession in which he said he choked the 18-year-old girl to death in her home Wednesday evening after a "lover's quarrel."

DAIRY FARMERS WILL CONTINUE HOLDING SUPPLY

"Flying Squadrons" of PMA Taken Off Highways This Morn

Chicago, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Striking milk farmers of the Chicago milk shed today declared they would continue the shut-off of milk shipments to Chicago from at least four important dairy counties in Illinois despite a promise by state highway patrolmen to protect the output of producers wishing to deliver.

Robert Mather, a member of the strike board of strategy at Elgin headquarters, predicted strikers would prevent shipments from McHenry, Lake, Kane and Boone counties.

At Woodstock 300 insurgent producers agreed to "hold the fort" until their demanded price of $2.50 per hundredweight is met. They rejected the offer of the Borden-Wieland dairy of Chicago to pay a flat price of $1.65.

Don N. Geyer, manager of the Pure Milk Association, said the PMA would comply with orders of Larry M. Taylor, state superintendent of police, to withdraw the "flying squadrons" which the marketing agency formed to protect shipments by non-strikers.

Strike Affects Rockford
In Rockford the strike was complicated today by a dispute between dairies and a truck drivers union. In reprisal for a union attempt to organize milk truck drivers, dairies refused to accept milk hauled from farms on trucks manned by union men.

As a result the city's milk supply was sharply curtailed.

The Bowman Dairy Company plant at Big Foot, in McHenry county at the Wisconsin state line, announced 25,000 pounds of milk

Misfortune Paid

Chicago, Oct. 11.—(AP)—When Jack Perry was arrested in a raid as the alleged proprietor of a gambling establishment, he turned his misfortune into a profit. The police also held 219 men who were in the place at the time of the raid. Seven patrol wagons were unable to transport the entire group to the station house, so Perry, who also is a bus operator, rented the police one of his conveyances.

ROBERT HOLZ IS BADLY HURT AT CEMENTFACTORY

Robert Holz, aged 64 years, residing at 414 Highland avenue, sustained severe injuries this morning about 11 o'clock at the Medusa cement company plant, east of the city, where he was employed. He with other workmen were engaged in repairing a metal roof covering the boiler room, when a section of the steel roofing gave way, and he fell a distance of between 10 and 14 feet.

The workmen had passed over that particular section of roofing several times and believed it to be perfectly safe, it was said, but when Mr. Holz stepped on the metal, it collapsed beneath his weight. The right leg was driven into the body when he struck the floor, fracturing the pelvis bone. Emphysema packed him up and rushed him to the hospital, but at a late hour this afternoon, he was in severe shock and the exact extent of his injuries could not be determined.

Lee County's Only Big Leaguers Will be Seen at Compton

Baseball fans of Lee county will have an opportunity of seeing a major league mound star in action next Sunday afternoon at the Compton field, in a game to be played between the Compton Oilers and the West Brooklyn Cardinals. LeRoy Herrmann, Lee county's only big leaguer, member of the Cincinnati Reds pitching staff and former Chicago Cub, will appear on the mound for both teams during the afternoon. LeRoy is now at his home near Steward spending several weeks vacation visiting with relatives and waiting orders to report for the spring training season.

Manager George Webber of the Compton Oilers has arranged the game between the teams representing the two Brooklyn township towns, as a fitting close of the very successful 1935 baseball season. The game will be called promptly at 2:15 and it is expected that it will attract the largest crowd of the season, the weather permitting. Several Dixon fans are planning to attend and witness the big league "slang-shot" pitcher in action on the mound.

Funeral of Warren Lowry on Saturday

Warren W. Lowry passed away at the Bradley hospital in Madison, Wis., Wednesday evening after an illness of less than one week's duration. He was aged 30 years, three months and 10 days. He was born in Dixon and has been a resident of Beloit, Wis., for the past several years where he followed his vocation of shoemaking. He is survived by his wife, his mother, Mrs. Angie Lowry; and one sister, Mrs. Daisy Schumacker of Dixon. Two nieces and one nephew also survive. Funeral services will be held from the home of his sister, Mrs. Schumacker, on Woodlawn avenue, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 and from St. Paul's Lutheran church at 3 o'clock. Rev. Lloyd W. Walter will conduct the service and interment will be in Oakwood.

Roosevelt Entertains Fortune Hunting Crew

With President Roosevelt at Cocos Island, Oct. 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt took another fishing trip on the blue Pacific today before pointing the cruiser Houston toward Panama Bay.

Deeply tanned from his brief vacation, the chief executive swapped views yesterday with British treasure hunters who are following this sunny island. He invited them to a beach luncheon.

The chief of the expedition said no treasure had been found during a four-month search, but the hunt is to be continued.

Taxi Man Says Zenge Told Him of Performing Fatal Operation

Prosecution Springs Trump Card in Murder Trial Today

Chicago, Oct. 11.—(AP)—William Leinert, taxi cab driver, testified today that Mandeville W. Zenge's murder trial the defendant told him he abducted Dr. Walter J. Bauer, his rival in love, and performed an emasculation operation which cost the doctor's life.

Leinert, star state witness, quoted the husky, dark haired young defendant as telling him: "I didn't mean to kill him. It's the fault of the doctor over at the hospital. If they had given him three quarts of blood he wouldn't have died."

First Motive Evidence
Leinert also provided the state's first evidence as to the motive assigned for the barbarous crime—a jealous rage over the fact that Dr. Bauer, a 38-year-old college instructor had married Zenge's pretty childhood sweetheart.

Swinging from side to side in the witness chair beside Judge Cornelius J. Harrington's bench, as a courtroom packed with women and girls hung on his words, the little taxi driver said:

"Zenge told me he felt like plugging the guy when the guy took his girl. I said 'why didn't you plug him, instead of doing what you did?'"

Zenge, seized in Chicago on July 2 after the fatal assault on August 31, stared blankly at the driver as Leinert, a small man who talked in rough vernacular, told his story.

First Confirmation
The first witness after medical testimony, Leinert was also the first to furnish confirmation of the state's charge: That Zenge, after learning that pretty Louise Shaffer had married the physician, stalked Bauer to Ann Arbor, kidnaped him, brought him to Chicago and performed the operation in the weeds of a vacant south side lot.

To counteract the defense claims that the operation was not performed in Cook county, Ill., and that the court lacks jurisdiction, two doctors testified earlier that they had examined Bauer shortly, in their opinion, after the operation was performed.

They were Dr. David Kaneko, resident physician at Jackson Park hospital, who testified Bauer was brought there "15 to 20 minutes" after the operation; and Dr. L. G. Balton, who said he attended Bauer at 3:10 A. M. on the 31st day of July, and that the operation had been performed "an hour before."

Met Five Days Before
Leinert met Zenge, 26-year-old son of a respected Canton, Mo., farm family, in Chicago five days before the murder, he said, picking him up as a passenger.

Leinert offered to take Zenge to "see some nudists dance," and they cruised about the city. Zenge offered to buy coffee, and asked:

"How is Chicago, nice place to hide out? I got to hide out some place because I'm hot!"

When Leinert asked what offense Zenge had committed, the farm youth told him, said the witness that he had performed such an operation as charged in the trial on "a man in St. Louis."

Zenge called him on the morning of July 31, and directed him to the south side, confiding that a police squad had spotted him there the night before and he had tossed away a gun. They search garbage cans in the alleys, said the cabbie, until they sighted more police and fled.

It was in the neighborhood where the state alleges the operation took place.

It was 8:30 A. M. and the story of Bauer's death blazed in the morning paper headlines, but Leinert had not seen them. Back at the cab station, Zenge gave him some envelopes and ordered him to destroy them.

Saw "Bauer," "Michigan" "I seen the name 'Bauer' and the word 'Michigan'" said the driver.

Firemen Delayed

Rochester, Pa., Oct. 11.—(AP)—The fire alarm sounded, but the boys didn't get going right away.

They found someone had drained all the gasoline from the truck's tanks.

After the fire they discovered the thief also had taken a first aid kit and eight bridge tables from the fire station.

MARDI GRAS TO BE PLANNED AT MEET THIS EVE

A general meeting of lodges, societies, clubs, and civic organizations representatives will be held in the Chamber of Commerce offices tonight at 7:30 o'clock to lay plans for Dixon's first Halloween celebration and Mardi Gras.

The celebration was conceived by the Boy and Girl Scouts and the Chamber of Commerce and is receiving the hearty endorsement and co-operation of all the community's worthwhile organizations.

The idea is one that is being embraced by many communities in Illinois and other states with considerable success. The grown-ups as well as the children derive a lot of pleasure and entertainment from the carnival atmosphere created. It is expected that Dixon's celebration will pattern those of other communities. Parades with floats, jim-cracks, grotesque costumes, and typical Halloween games and stunts will all be included. It is planned to award alluring prizes to those displaying the best costumes in the parade or in masquerade events planned following it.

Mrs. Blacklidge in Another Effort to Get Out of Her Cell

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11.—(AP)—A petition for a writ of habeas corpus was filed with the Illinois Supreme Court today in behalf of Mrs. Myrtle Tanner Blacklidge, serving a jail term in Chicago for failure to pay damages on alienation of affections.

Mrs. Blacklidge has made repeated efforts in state and federal courts to escape the six months in jail for failure to pay $7,500 damages to Mrs. Norman Nottingham, who is paying her expenses in the cell.

Attorneys for the former collector of internal revenue at Chicago held a hope that a 1935 amendment to the debtor law might bring a ruling in her favor. The Supreme Court previously has upheld her conviction for alienation of affections.

The court is expected to act on the habeas corpus writ next week, the justices being in adjournment until then.

Seven Sets of Twins Exasperate Teachers

Chatfield, Minn., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Who's who and which is which? The seven sets of twins in Chatfield high school have exasperated teachers considering a new type of "marking" system.

Two sets each in the junior and freshman classes have uncertain pedagogues spluttering names in laphazard fashion. Twins also make their daily appearance in the third and seventh grades and the normal training course.

Prominent Attorney of Pekin is Called

Pekin, Ill., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Jesse Black, Pekin attorney and prominent Democrat, died today following a long illness from cancer. He formerly was a state representative and Tazewell county judge. Two years ago he was named an inheritance tax inspector by Attorney General Kerner. About twenty years ago Black was a candidate for congress but lost by several hundred votes.

Sudden Cessation of Concert Reveals Escape of Five Youths

Burlington, Iowa, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Five youths ranging in age from 19 to 24 years, escaped about 1 A. M. today from the Hancock county jail at Carthage, Ill., by chiseling a stone from the wall of their cells near a window.

It is reported that the five, equipped with various musical instruments, gave a "concert" in the jail lasting until about 1 A. M. Sudden cessation of the music led to an investigation which revealed the break.

JUDGE'S WIFE DEAD

Chicago.—Funeral services will be held Saturday for Mrs. Catherine Twyman Hall, 65, of suburban Oak Park, wife of Judge Ross C. Hall of the Illinois Appellate Court. She is survived by her husband and two sons.

Confessed Murderer of Step-Daughter Found Dead in His Cell This Morning; Had Suicided

Pontiac, Mich., Oct. 11.—(AP)—They called Coroner Lee Voolhees, Ferrin Rowland, 36-year-old confessed murderer of his two step-daughters, committed suicide by hanging himself with a rope made of pillow cases in the Oakland county jail today. Deputy Sheriff Louis Burt found the body.

Sheriff Spencer C. Howarth and Prosecutor David C. Pence, who examined him, said he was dead.

The discovery was made when Deputy Burt went to Rowland's cell to take him to the prosecutor's office for additional questioning.

Rowland's arraignment on murder's charges had been postponed until afternoon in order that his wife might be brought from Harrison Mich. to confront him. He had declared Mrs. Rowland knew of the double slaying.

FULL LEAGUE COMMITTEE IS AGREED TODAY

Action Permits Arms to be Shipped Into African Empire

(Copyright, 1935 by The Associated Press)
Geneva, Oct. 11.—A general arms embargo against Italy and permission for Ethiopia to import all the war munitions she needs were ordered today by the full sanctions committee of the League of Nations.

The committee represents every member of the league except Italy and Ethiopia.

At the same time, a special sub-committee undertook to study the possibility of placing a financial boycott against Italy. Such a boycott might cover all loans and credits made by foreign nations to Italy.

Applies to Contracts
Not only does the arms embargo apply to future shipments of war materials to Italy, but it applies to contracts already entered into.

The resolution passed by the big committee contains one paragraph designed to block any effort by Mussolini to get war supplies through neighboring anti-sanction states such as Austria.

This paragraph states that the members of the league will "take such steps as may be necessary" to prevent re-export "directly or indirectly" of arms to Italy or its possessions.

Hungary Abstained
Before the resolution was declared adopted, the Hungarian delegate told the committee, "I abstain."

League officials said therefore they considered that, while no formal roll call vote was taken, the resolution had been approved by all those present except Hungary.

Consequently, the position of Austria, also present, was regarded as ambiguous since Austria yesterday declared against the sanctioning of Italy.

Effective Tonight
The embargo against Italy goes into effect tonight.

The recommendation for the embargo against Italy was based on President Roosevelt's list of "implements of war."

The immediate effect of lifting the embargo against Ethiopia that Emperor Haile Selassie's empire will be able to receive in the space of a very few days all kinds of armaments with which to carry on her defense against Italy.

By acting today, the committee permits the entrance of arms into Ethiopia beginning tonight.

(Huge stores of arms destined for the Ethiopian government are reported stored in Djibouti, French Somaliland, where they were ordered held by the French government. Djibouti is only two days from Addis Ababa by train.)

ROOSEVELT'S DECREE
Roosevelt's arms embargo proclamation, issued Oct. 5, barred the exportation from the United States to either Italy or Ethiopia of a specific list of implements of war.

The list, in abstract, follows:

Category I.
Large caliber rifles, machine guns, automatic rifles, artillery pieces, ammunition for the foregoing, bombs and tanks.

Category II.
All kinds of vehicles of war including submarines.

Category III.
Combat and bombing airplanes and aerial gun mounts and bomb racks.

Category IV.
Heavy revolvers and automatic pistols.

Category V.
Airplane parts, including engines.

Category VI.
Flame throwers, poison gas and high explosives.

Illinois Boy Happy; Escapes War Service

West Frankfort, Ill., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Leno Bonucci, 19-year-old Italian high school senior, is basking himself on the back today because he will not be required to comply with a call to service in the Italian army received several weeks ago.

The youth's father became a naturalized American citizen in 1914, thus giving Leno ground for exemption.

Dun-Bradstreet
Weekly Review of Trade Issued Today

New York, Oct. 11—(AP)—Continued improvement in retail distribution, aided by favorable weather and the freer spending mood of consumers was cited today by Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., as the feature of the week's trade.
"With ideal shopping weather prevailing in most districts, retail sales rose as much as 5 to 15 per cent for the week, but the spread over the 1934 comparative has started to narrow, due to the rising trend at that time," the survey said.
"This held the estimated range of increase for the country as a whole down to 6 to 12 per cent over the totals for the same week last year."
"Buying of Christmas goods proceeded at a better rate, and orders thus far placed for greeting cards, gift items, jewelry, silverware, furniture and electrical appliances have exceeded last year's total."
"Numerous announcements of plant improvement progress have brightened hopes for a continuation of the recovery movement in the heavy goods industry."

HOMER J. TICE,
LONG REPUBLICAN
LEADER DEAD

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11—(AP)—Homer J. Tice, 73, of Greenville, long a leader in the Republican party and for 13 terms a state representative, died early today at St. John's hospital.
He had been in the hospital since September 18 and a week ago submitted to a major operation.
Tice, a farmer at Greenville, served his first term in the legislature under the thirty-seventh general assembly. He retired in 1932, was nominated again in his district in 1934, but failed to win out in the election.
During his service in the legislature, Tice became known as "the Father of Good Roads" through his activity as chairman of the joint legislative committee named to revise and recodify the state road and bridge laws.
For six terms he was a member of the Republican state central committee and was chairman of the Menard county Republican committee for many years. He also was one of the organizers of the Old Salem Chautauqua Association and the Menard County Farmers Institute.

Taxi Man Says—

"When I got home I read the papers. That night he called me and I picked him up. I says 'boy, are you crazy or something?' he says: 'Well, you know how it is.'"

Prosecutor Charles Dougherty, compact little veteran of many murder trials, said he would rely chiefly on Leinert's testimony for the account of what happened, reinforcing it with witnesses who saw Bauer and Zenge en route from Ann Arbor, where the doctor was in summer school at the state university, to Chicago.

Louise, Bauer's pretty 22-year-old widow, will take the stand after the others, said Dougherty. He promised to show that she had grown tired of waiting for Zenge to marry her, and told him she planned to wed Bauer. The doctor taught chemistry at the Kirkville, Mo., College of Osteopathy and Surgery.

Louise, daughter of a farm family, was night superintendent of nurses in a connected hospital.

Defense Attorney Joseph Roach asked the cab driver hardly a dozen questions in cross-examination, dismissing him after 20 minutes without attacking the truth of his tale. A further indication that the defense would claim Zenge insane, driven to the crime by an "irresistible impulse," came in the question:

Q—You told Zenge 'Boy, you must be crazy.' You must have thought a man who would do that would have to be insane?

A—It was just slang.

400 YEARS AGO

By Joseph Fort Newton
On October 14th, 1535, the first printed English bible translation by Miles Coverdale, was issued from the press. In all English-speaking lands the day will be honored with thanksgiving and joy.

No one who values the hard-won inheritance of our race can let this day pass unremembered. The Bible is so wrought into all that is best in our life, that its birthday is an historical event.

It is the mother of our literary family—on its loom our language was woven—and if some of its children have grown up and become wise in their own conceit, none the less they gather about its knee.

What Homer was to the Greeks, and the Koran to the Arabs, that, and much more, the Bible is to us. There is hardly a man among us, with a spark of God-fire in his soul, who does not owe it to that Book.

All over England and America there are—or used to be—little buildings of pale brick or wood, with names painted on them of Zion, Bethel, Bethesda, names of a distant land, of the ancient people of the Bible.

The American pioneer, facing the wilderness and a savage human nature, took the Bible as a light to his feet and a hope to his heart. By its wisdom he built the school and the church, along with the home.

The all-time best-seller and best friend, the Bible, lives in our ear like a music that can never be forgotten. All that is gentle, true, pure, penitent, and heroic speaks to us from its pages.

The traditions of our childhood are mingled with its words. The memory of the dead has passed into its passages. It has touched with intellectual and spiritual fitness our literature, legislation, and life.

If by some appalling obscuration of faith and culture its light should go out and its music be hushed, there is hardly a hope left for the better life of our race, rising slowly out of the night toward the light.

By all that is high and holy in our past, by as much as we value the present and plan for a better day, let us renew our love and knowledge of the Bible as our guide, prophet and friend!

Meeting Prairieville Soc. Circle Wednes.

The members of the Prairieville Social Circle met with Mrs. Chas. Reid Wednesday, with 27 members, five guests and four children present.

After the delicious picnic dinner at noon, the meeting opened with devotions. Roll call was answered by the places of birth by the members. After the regular business meeting the program committee had charge of games and music. The day was a happy and interesting one.

The roll call at the next meeting will be current news and recipes. The next meeting will be held at the church on October 23.

WEDDING OF FORMER FORRESTON GIRL ANNOUNCED

A belated notice of the wedding of Miss Edna Baker, of Champaign, a former Forreston girl, and William Hussey, also of Champaign, has been received. The ceremony took place the 22nd of September. The bride is employed at one of the restaurants of the college city and the groom is working part time and attending the university.

Child Who Torments Disdains Any Discipline

By Olive Roberts Barton.
The truce was ended and now his mother knew that something would have to be done.

Seven-year-old Torry had tried everybody's patience beyond endurance in the past week. Big brother Bill was at the exploding point and Marta, fifteen, two years younger than Bill, was saying that as soon as she had a good chance after high school she wouldn't stay at home one more day if she could help it.

Torry seemed different from the others. Just when his mother had first noticed it would have been hard to say. But from his third year he couldn't let anyone alone. He delighted in teasing and tormenting. His black eyes would snap and dance when reproved for some mischief or other, and punishment made no impression.

By spells his mother was patient and exasperated. She tried leniency and talking, and then seen that was of no use would either deprive him of something or whip him. She was afraid Torry's disposition being what it was, to antagonize him too much lest she lose all influence. Her husband was mild and easy-going. Most things happened when he was out of the house, anyway. A few times he had talked turkey to the baby of the family, but he did not take matters seriously. "Oh, he'll be all right when he grows up," he would say.

Headline Maker.
But his mother knew better. Bill had never been like this. She feared little Torry was heading for—well she stopped at that. But whenever she picked up a paper with scare heads on the first page stating that another young criminal had run amuck of the law, she shivered.

Today Torry had reached the limit. Both Bill and Marta had been blind and patient this past week as she had requested, to see if silence and kindness to the small vandal's conduct would make him lose interest. But he had gone to Marta's room after school and shaken bolts of ink over her finished crayon for the art contest. And he had taken scissors and cut up Bill's "letters," ripped off his sweater while it was being washed.

Upstairs she could hear Torry's "yah" and nervous giggle. Both Marta and Bill were talking to him. Henry had just gone to the civic meeting. Bill was going to study. She heard him say, "Now get out and be quiet." Torry began to whoop like an Indian.

Heavy-Handed Discipline.
And then—there was no doubt of what was happening. Bill had reached out, dragged the young scamp into his room and was soundly and sincerely spanking him. Torry was calling her and shouting bloody murder. What should she do? Run to the rescue? No.

She sat still and waited until it was over. Then she heard Bill's voice. "Kid, from now on you are going to behave and do exactly as I tell you. I'll make a decent citizen of you if it takes me all the rest of my life. There is a law in this world, kid, and you may as well learn now, that you're not too smart to obey. Get out of here now and blow your nose. And you stay away from mother. Hear? If you go sniveling to her I'll smack you again."

Mrs. Smith slipped out the door. In some strange way a load had been lifted. And yet—was she doing right? Anything, anything she finally decided, to save her baby from ruin was permissible but to think of Bill. People would say she was crazy. What of it? She went back into the house.

Meeting of Hill-side Community Club Is Enjoyed

The Hillside Community club met at Robert Schulz home Friday evening with a good attendance. The president called the meeting to order. Minutes of last meeting were read and accepted.

A rising vote of thanks was then given the Schulz family. No business being brought up, the meeting was turned over to the program committee. Mrs. Rose Withers, Mrs. Marian Hintzelman and Mrs. Ella Walker. Bunco and a social time was enjoyed by all. Refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, cake and jello and coffee were then enjoyed. At a late hour all departed for their homes having spent an enjoyable evening. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hintzelman, Nov. 1.

MRS. MCNICHOOLS HOSTESS AT BRIDGE THURSDAY

Mrs. W. A. McNichols delightfully entertained with bridge Thursday afternoon, a few friends. One of the guests was Mrs. Earl Weber, who recently moved with her husband to Dixon. Mrs. Weber is the former Isabel McCloy, a charming and popular Sterling girl.

Mrs. C. B. Lindell was awarded the favor at bridge, yesterday.

Miss Brooks Addressed Two Successful Open H. B. Meetings

The Lee County Home Bureau members were most fortunate in having Miss Fannie Brooks, R. N., of Champaign, who is the Health Specialist of the Illinois Extension Service, speak to them at the two open meetings on Wednesday and Thursday at the Methodist churches in Amboy and Dixon respectively.

At Amboy Wednesday Miss Brooks had an attendance of 100 members and 25 students from the Lee Center high school, who were delighted with the lecture. On Thursday in Dixon 100 members and friends were in attendance at the lecture "Personality and Health."

Mrs. Carl Ackert, county chairman, led in union singing, yesterday, the songs being "America, the Beautiful" and "America," with Mrs. Verne Straw at the piano.

Miss Brooks, the speaker, stressed the importance of Health in gaining a charming personality. Several attributes of personality were interestingly covered and some clever ideas for developing personality in children were given.

Miss Brooks gave the lives of Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, Columbus, Martin Luther and Christ as examples for a further study of personality. Being enthusiastic about something every in your workaday life is another good way to develop your personality.

At the close of the lecture Miss Brooks gave leaflets to all, the "Ten Commandments of Good Posture." These thoughts are cleverly worked out and should be placed where all can see them daily for aiding in developing one's own personality.

Miss Brooks will be in Lee county in February, 1936 and all will be pleased to hear her again.

Reading Club Met Wednesday Evening At Van Nuy's Home

The Reading Club held its first meeting of the season Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Van Nuy.

An election of officers for the year was held with Mrs. Van Nuy being elected president, and Mrs. Robert Warner secretary. The program committee was appointed as follows: Mrs. W. A. McNichols, Mrs. Werner Marloth and Mrs. Wilson Dysart. They will form a schedule of reading and entertainment for the winter months.

Mrs. Van Nuy read a pertinent article on Russian drama.

All the members thoroughly enjoyed the reading of the play "A Month in the Country," by Turgenyev.

During the enjoyable social hour tempting refreshments were served.

Meeting Scout Leaders Association

The Scout Leader Association met the evening of October 10 at the home of Mrs. W. R. Hardy. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The members then formed groups and made outlined plans for the work of the year. Other business matters were discussed including plans for the Mardi Gras and selling Christmas cards as a means for earning money in a troop. The president appointed a program committee as follows: Hazel Miller, Geraldine Williams, and Hazel Dixon. The second Monday of each month was agreed upon as a regular meeting time hereafter.

ALL MEMBERS URGED TO BE PRESENT—
All members of the Dixon Woman's club are urged to be present at the first meeting of the club year, Saturday afternoon, Oct. 12 which will be held in the Christian church. The new president, Mrs. Arthur C. Bowers will call the meeting to order promptly at 2:30.

Woman Legion Commander Must Tell Good Story

Bend, Ore., Oct. 11.—(AP)—A woman commander of an American Legion post, who promised to tell her cohorts "at least one good story a month," held official title to her new office today.

She, Miss Cassie Holmes, commander of the Kent, Ore., Legion post, was installed yesterday by Fred A. Lieualien, commander of the Bend Legion post.

"Miss Holmes is commander of the Kent post because every member insisted she run for office," Lieualien said. "And she will make a darn good commander, too."

"She said before the boys unanimously endorsed her for office they made her promise to tell them one good story a month. She'll keep that promise."

Miss Holmes was a nurse during the war, and thus under the Legion by-laws was entitled to membership.

She is the only woman member of the Kent post, which with but 17 members draws from several hundred square miles of territory in the wheat belt of north-central Oregon.

Outside of her avowed intention of adding to the membership of the Kent unit, the principal problem of the rather retiring, still young woman seems to be to think up that one good story a month.

Delightful Party For Miss Chronister

Last evening Miss Genevieve Dodd and Miss Helen O'Brien delightfully entertained at the James Valle home honoring Miss Ethel Chronister who on Tuesday, Oct. 15th, will be married to Lavond Vorhis.

Bridge was the amusement for the evening, with guests for three tables. Miss Frances Doyle won the favor for high honors Miss Chronister won second high and Miss Frances Bradley consolation.

A delicious two course luncheon was served. Garden flowers were the pretty decorations.

Then the family washing was returned in the usual hamper—and there was no mistake in the way it was placed before Miss Chronister with orders for her to open the neatly wrapped packages. And she proceeded to unwrap some lovely and useful articles for the new-home-to-be, such as a set of lovely dishes, some glistening Postoria ware and a set of green handled cutlery for the kitchen, all with the best wishes from the donors.

POPULAR YOUNG COUPLE WERE WED SEPT. 10—
The wedding of Miss Pearl Mathiesius of Mendota and Gilbert Larson of Shabbona which took place on September 4th was announced on Friday. The ceremony was performed at the parsonage of the Leland Methodist church with Rev. Liston officiating. The couple was unattended.

Mrs. Larson is a daughter of Mr. Anton Mathiesius of Mendota. She attended the Mendota schools and is an attractive young lady. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Larson of Shabbona. He is a graduate of the Shabbona high school and is an excellent young man.

The couple will make their home on a farm near Shabbona.

May Obtain Season Concert Tickets

Season tickets for the series of concerts sponsored by the Order of the Eastern Star and the White Shrine of Jerusalem of this city, may be obtained upon application to Mrs. Bastian or Mrs. Coss. ### Forty at Grace W.M. S. Picnic Dinner And Meeting on Tuesday

The W. M. S. of Grace Evangelical church had a very enjoyable time Tuesday at their picnic dinner at the parsonage, with about forty in attendance. Afterward they went to the church for the meeting at 2 o'clock. The program opened with a song and Miss Janette Dewey gave a prayer. The Scripture lesson, Malachi 3:10, was read by Miss Rilla Webster and she also led in prayer followed by another hymn. A piano selection was given by Mrs. Dunseth and current events by Mrs. Norma Dietrich. A trio by Mesdames Klein, Shaffer and Hartman was accompanied by Mrs. Dunseth at the piano.

The lesson study subject was "How is the Church Helping?" It was the last chapter in the book, Orientals of America, and was ably given by Mrs. Wilbur Shriner. A cornet solo by Mrs. Fred Krahler was accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Wulbrandt. Mrs. Jack Marshall gave a very good missionary reading, The Decoan's Tenth. The program closed with song and prayer by Mrs. Harry Giles.

Six new members joined the society.

MATTER OF DEFINITION

The federal government recently offered to give Kansas City some $4,000,000 for a slum clearance project; but it looks as if the offer will be rejected, as City Manager H. F. McElroy says that Kansas City has no slums, and the head of the local Real Estate Board declares there are more than 5000 vacancies in homes which rent for $15 a month or less.

On the other side of the argument is A. E. Hutchings, chairman of a citizens committee drawn up to sponsor slum clearance; and he asserts that Kansas City has fully 8000 homes without modern plumbing, 6000 without running water and a least 1000 that are actually insanitary.

These opposing viewpoints emphasize one of the knottiest problems of the times. The slum is a blot on civilization—but where are you going to draw the line between the actual slum and the "cheap neighborhood"?

How are you going to clear away slums without working hardship on certain property owners? Can you, in fact, embark on a real slum clearance program without first getting an entirely new viewpoint on such things as living standards, private property and civic responsibility?

PLAY, THE NATION'S NEED

One of the great needs of the United States is to do much more plain, every-day playing. So say speakers at the National Recreation Congress, who cite medical authority to indicate that mental and physical health cannot be maintained unless people get plenty of recreation.

Dr. Carl A. Wilzbach, director of health education for Cincinnati, points out that no mental hygienist any longer looks on children's play as a waste of time. It is an essential part of the child's development. And much the same thing is true of the adult.

This is a matter of peculiar importance to the men who make up city budgets these days. Finances may be in a bad state, but money must be found somehow for playgrounds and parks, for golf links and baseball fields, for bathing pools and picnic grounds. The depression has been bad for the mental health of the nation; one of the best ways to overcome its effects is to see to it that people at least have a chance to get plenty of recreation.

THE BEST FOR CENTURIES

Whenever publishers sit down to make up lists of all-time "best sellers," they never have the least trouble in figuring out what book should go in first place. That spot invariably is reserved for the Bible, which for generation after generation continues to outsell all other books.

What makes this worthy of remark at the present moment is the fact that this year marks the 400th anniversary of the publication of the first English translation of the Bible. Myles Coverdale, an Englishman, brought out a complete text of the Bible in 1535—the first full English text to be printed, although Wycliff had circulated a translation in manuscript form a century and a half earlier, and Tyndale had printed the New Testament in 1525.

A nation-wide committee is pushing plans for suitable commemoration of the anniversary. Certainly the occasion is one of the most noteworthy in all the history of the English-speaking peoples.

ENGLAND'S ADVANTAGE

Comparison of American police work with that of England's Scotland Yard leaves the advantage all on the side of the British; but it is only fair to point out that the British police have a far easier job.

This point was made in an address before an Ohio police group by Dr. Harvey Walker of Ohio State University, who conducts a course in criminology and has studied British police methods extensively.

Britain is an island, he pointed out, and it is almost infinitely harder for a wanted criminal to escape than it is in this country, with its vast "open spaces" and its network of state lines. Further, the Englishman's inherent respect for law prompts him to aid the police far more than the American citizen ever dreams of doing.

The British system is basically more efficient than ours, to be sure; but in fairness it must be remembered that the job is harder over here.

START AGAINST RACKETEERING

The Department of Justice's famous manhunters are about to tackle the menace of the racketeer—the strong-arm man who levies tribute from legitimate business and labor organizations by threat of violence.

However, as Director J. Edgar Hoover points out, too much must not be expected of the "G men" in this field. They can act only where the racketeering has an interstate angle. Purely local rackets can be touched only by the local police force.

The federal men can render a great service by cleaning up such of the rackets as fall in their province, and by focusing our attention on this peculiarly American evil. But in the long run, we shall have racketeering in our cities until our own police and politicians decide to stamp it out. Uncle Sam can't solve that problem for us.

It may cost me a crown, maybe 100,000 Italian lives perhaps my head. But Italy will proceed with her plans regarding Ethiopia.—Mussolini.

THE TWYMITE

READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE

The farmer smiled as he was cheered, and Dotty said, "I sadly feared you would fail to win a prize. Now everything's all right."

"Your pumpkin was the biggest one, and it was such a pack of fun to see you get the ribbon, that I cheered with all my might."

"Well, thank you," said the farmer. "Gee, I won't forget that you helped me to get the pumpkin to this fair. I owe you all a treat."

"If you'll wait here a little while, I'll do something to make you smile. I'll bet you all could stand a bite of something good to eat."

"Oh, could we?" Duncy yelled. "You bet. We'll eat up anything you get. I'll wait beneath this tree. Here is my chance to take a snazze."

The farmer answered, "Ah, that's right. All rest and build an appetite. I'll hurry on my way, now, 'cause I have no time to lose."

"Course Duncy was the only one who slept. The rest had lots of fun just running 'round and playing tag. They soon grew all tired out."

"The farmer's coming," Goldy cried. "He'll soon be right here by our side. It won't be long till we know what his plan is all about."

"Hey, set a table," cried the man. "And do it quickly as you can. I've brought some knives and forks and spoons; enough for everyone."

Said Goldy, "It won't take us long to sit right down where we belong. Please tell us what your treat is. We're all ready for some fun."

"A pumpkin pie, my little lad. The biggest I have ever had," replied the friendly farmer. "My prize pumpkin you will eat."

Each Tiny got a great big share, and Goldy said, "Oh this tastes rare. I'm sure I'll eat so much I'll never get up from this seat."

Fugitive's Kin Await Trial in Stoll Kidnaping

Thomas H. Robinson, Sr.

Although Thomas H. Robinson, Jr., sought since last October for the $50,000 ransom kidnaping of Mrs. Berry V. Stoll, Louisville, Ky., society matron, remains at large, the fugitive's wife and father will go on trial Oct. 7 in Louisville federal court for complicity in the Stoll abduction. The trial had been delayed in the hope that Robinson, Jr., former inmate of Tennessee asylums for the insane, might be apprehended. The Stolls, their servants, and 24 Department of Justice agents who figured in the Robinson manhunt have been subpoenaed for the trial.

GOVT. CONTROL OF RAILROADS IS ASSAILED

Chicago, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Government regulation of the railroad industry was assailed by Fitzgerald Hall, president of the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railway, in an address prepared for delivery before the Illinois Chamber of Commerce.

"No industry in America has suffered from political regulation as have the railroads," Hall said. He branded congressional measures as fantastic and said "they are designed to subject us all to bureaucratic regimentation from Washington."

Government ownership and operation of railroads is inconsistent with the American theory of economics and government," Hall declared.

"It is entirely consistent with the socialistic views of many now in high authority. Experience in other nations has demonstrated that government ownership and operation cannot equal, either in economy or in service, private ownership and operations."

HOPKINS MUST PUT 100,000 ON NEW JOBS DAILY

Washington, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The gigantic task of putting almost 100,000 men to work each day from now until Nov. 1 faced relief officials today as picked engineers of the army came to their aid in an effort to speed the program.

The present aim is to put 3,150,000 men to work by the first of next month. The original goal in the $4,000,000,000 drive was 3,500,000 by that date, but later officials predicted this aim would be 90 per cent accomplished by Nov. 1.

The works progress administration, a major division in the work relief set-up, today postponed until next week its announcement of the number of men at work at present.

The progress report had been expected today, but it was explained that during the absence of Harry L. Hopkins, administrator, the tabulations would be made bi-weekly instead of weekly.

Absence of an official total left the status of the drive in doubt. The last total, a week ago, was 1,126,234, which left more than 2,000,000 jobs to be provided even to meet Hopkins' 90 per cent goal.

Katherine Giblin Taken by Death at Home Near Harmon

Katherine Giblin, widow of William Giblin, passed away at her home three miles north of Harmon at 4 o'clock Wednesday morning after a long illness. A son William, resided in the home.

Mrs. Giblin, who was born in La-

Salle, Feb. 7, 1867, had been a resident of the Harmon vicinity for many years.

Funeral services were held from the home at 8:30 o'clock this morning, and from the St. Flannan's Catholic church in Harmon at 9 o'clock Rev. Fr. David Murphy conducted the rites. Interment was in the Holy Cross cemetery.

Engineers state that automobile fires are caused most frequently by backfire into an air cleaner and intake silencer that happens to be filled with gasoline from over-choking the carburetor.

It took 40 years to a day to build the Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City.

VAILE AND O'MALLEY Presents Winter's Smartest

The Raglan-type Burly Ulster

Maybe it's the long hard winters we've had the last few years. Or perhaps because they're styled in a real he-man way. But big, burly ulsters are back—strong! And as usual, those creators of Style, Society Brand, have turned out masterpieces. The raglan shoulders lend a casual smartness. Choose a fleece or melton, cheviot or boucle—but no matter which, they'll be superb values if they're by Society Brand.

GOOD THOUGHTS

The Bible is a book of faith, and a book of doctrine, and a book of morals, and a book of religion and of special revelation from God.—Daniel Webster.

We glory most in the fact that the Scripture so commends itself to the conscience, and experience so bears out the Bible, that the gospel can go round the world and carry with it, in all its travels its own mighty credentials.—Henry Melville.

Before you enter on the day with its temptations, look up into His face and hide His Word in your heart.—F. B. Meyer.

In regard to the Great Book I have only to say that it is the best gift God has given to man. All the good from the Saviour of the world is communicated to us through this Book.—Abraham Lincoln.

Christ Jesus said (Matt. 22:29) "Ye do err, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God." One must investigate thoroughly, honestly, in order to know the Scriptures and the power of good. A thorough study of the Bible reveals that God is forever perfect and forever good; and man is His image and likeness. The unfolding of the truth about God and man destroys false beliefs, human opinions, and their seeming hold in human consciousness. Thus a mortal puts off the old man, that is, the old, mistaken concept of man, of himself. These new views or visions of God and man bring to light a new heaven and a new earth. — The Christian Science Monitor.

Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.—John 8:32.

Evening worship 7:30 P. M. The People had a Mind to Work" is the theme of the pastor's message.

Mid-week service Wednesday evening at 7:30 for the adults and young people.

"SON OF MAN" The Presbyterian Sunday school most cordially invites the public to come, see and hear the "Son of Man" on Monday, Oct. 14, 1935 at 7:30 P. M. This is the most beautiful version of the "Life of Christ" ever screened. There are eight reels of hand colored moving picture play taken in Judea and other parts of Palestine, and was two years in the making. Please do not judge this picture by others you may have seen in the past, for it surpasses even the "King of Kings" for color, and is more biblically inclined, and was filmed by Pathe Co. and colored by Midland Co. of Chicago.

There will be electrically transcribed music of John McCormick, Homer Rodenheaver, Gypsy Smith, Sr., and many other noted singers and choruses, also violin and organ solos.

Dr. E. E. Morrison of Hillsdale, Mich. now owner of this film and equipment, will lecture in sermonettes with clear interpretations while pictures are being shown, using two portable moving picture projectors.

This program has made a deep, favorable and lasting impression wherever it has been shown, heard and seen within the last year and a half in our largest churches. We urge the public to take advantage of this rare opportunity to see this great production of eight thousand feet of beautifully colored film. No admission is charged, but a silver offering will be taken to defray expenses. We ask that children be accompanied by adults, and we are sure that a great lesson is in store for all and that no one will be disappointed.

Violence in Milk Strike Brings Threat to Declare Martial Law

Threat by Governor Henry Horner of Illinois to declare martial law followed fruitless efforts at peace in the milk strike, marked by frequent outbreaks of violence, in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin. Milk delivery trucks were halted by pickets all through the area, the above picture showing one group stopping a driver at Big Foot, Ill., in the Chicago district. Two deaths have resulted from the strike, contents of trucks have been dumped, and a rail bridge burned.

Leaf tobacco being sold to highest bidder

From 1900 up to 1934 the leaf tobacco used for cigarettes increased from 13,084,037 lbs. to 326,093,357 lbs.; an increase of 2392%

It takes mild ripe tobacco to make a good cigarette.

During the year ending June 30, 1900, the Government collected from cigarette taxes $3,969,191

For the year ending June 30, 1934, the same taxes were $350,299,442 an increase of 8725% —a lot of money.

Cigarettes give a lot of pleasure to a lot of people.

More cigarettes are smoked today because more people know about them—they are better advertised.

But the main reason for the increase is that they are made better—made of better tobaccos; then again the tobaccos are blended—a blend of Domestic and Turkish tobaccos.

Chesterfield is made of mild, ripe tobaccos.

Everything that science knows about is used in making it a milder and better-tasting cigarette.

We believe you will enjoy them.

STORIES IN STAMPS By I. S. Klein

STAMPS AS COINS

WAR, which brought on a shortage of metal and the hoarding of coins, also caused the use of stamps as legal tender. It was so in the United States during the Civil War, and it was more so in Europe, particularly France, Germany and Austria, during the World War.

Since the stamps would last a very short time if handled too often, they were put into small metal containers and covered with mica, the backs of the containers carrying advertisements which repaid the cost. Above are the front and back of such a stamp coin, current in Denmark shortly after the war. In that country, this was done more as a commercial enterprise, by which the government could profit from such advertising, than from lack of coinage.

ROCHELLE NEWS

By Sven Stangley.

The Rochelle graded schools are cooperating with the city officials in paying special attention to Fire Prevention week. Throughout the country, a fire prevention program is in progress during this week. The children of the graded schools have reviewed the figures on the loss of life and property through fire and also have discussed common sense precautions against fire. Special fire drills and exercises were held during periods of good weather. The Central school can be emptied of over three hundred children in fifty-three seconds.

The Reading Circle program for the year 1935-36 was opened to all children in the graded schools, Monday morning. The new books for the year were distributed to the various grades. Children who read four of the prescribed books on the Illinois State Reading Circle list are given a diploma and for each subsequent four books read a seal is awarded. A twenty book course is the regular program prescribed by the State Reading Circle Board. The local administration in order to encourage additional effort have their own school reading program which is in advance of the State schedule.

The Junior high school club program started this week on Wednesday morning. The following clubs are being offered this year: Junior High School Traffic Club, Publication Club, Personality Club, Kite Club, Home Making Club, The March of Time Club. The clubs meet for one period each week under the direction of their sponsor. These clubs have both learning and recreational values and provide children with good clean hobbies which they may follow in their leisure time instead of being on the streets.

The Grade School Camp Fire Girls organization started their activities on Monday evening, September 16 by having a wicker roast at Memorial Park. All girls over ten years of age attending any school in Rochelle were invited. The first business meeting night was held on Monday, Sept. 30, with approximately fifty grade school girls attending. Last Saturday the girls cooked their breakfast in the manual training room of the Central school and had a short hike afterwards. Monday evening the eight grade girls demonstrated to the rest of the group how to run a regular business-like business meeting. The next meeting will be a bicycle ride after school Monday evening. Miss Lind and two high school girls will have charge of the party.

Sixteen Camp Fire Girls from the high school group served over two hundred people at a banquet held in the Masonic Temple Wednesday evening. The high school girls, under the leadership of Miss Travers, held a business meeting after school Tuesday.

The Public Library has just received the "Revised Statutes of the State of Illinois," which embraces all general laws of Illinois adopted and approved before August 1, 1935. State Bank to Pay 12 1/2 Per Cent.

Payment of a second dividend of 12 1/2 per cent to depositors of the closed Amboy State Bank amounting to approximately $22,861.34 will be made in about two weeks, according to an announcement issued early this week from the office of Deputy Receiver J. U. Weyant of Dixon. Checks will be mailed on or about Oct. 25, to all creditors whose claims are on file in the office of the deputy receiver.

Authorization was given for the payment of the dividend to William L. O'Connell, the receiver, by Edward A. Barrett, Auditor of Public Accounts. The dividend will consist of 1 1/2 per cent from the stockholders' liability collections and 11 per cent from collections of the general receivership.

But one other dividend has been paid to depositors of the bank, which closed its doors here Dec. 11, 1931. It was one of 5 per cent (3 1/2 per cent from the stockholders' liability collections and 1 1/2 per cent from collections of the general receivership), and was paid on Feb. 9, 1933. E. W. Varty was receiver at that time. The total amount paid was $910.44.

The amount on deposit at closing was $188,121.68. Offsets allowed amount to $5108.40. There was a preferred claim of $122.53, leaving a net deposit liability, for which claims have been filed of $182,890.75. Total assets on closing were reported at $252,764.47. The stockholders' liability is in addition to these assets. Deputy Receiver Weyant reports that the remaining assets are $173,304.44. These include all those that are good, those that are bad and those that are doubtful.

"Any depositor sufficiently interested to call at my office may receive any and all information we can give them," said Mr. Weyant. Deputy Receiver Weyant is in charge of the liquidation of closed banks in Lee county. These are located at Amboy, Lee, Franklin Grove and Aston. John P. Harvey of Amboy, is receiver for the stockholders' liability of the closed Amboy State Bank.

The Amboy unit of the Lee county Home Bureau will meet at the home of Mrs. Frank Buchman on Tuesday, Oct. 15.

With everything approved and all in readiness for the start of work on Lee county's WPA project on roads, Co. Supt. Fred W. Leake is marking time as he awaits the allotment of money. While in Rockford Monday, Supt. Leake was informed that the allotment will undoubtedly be made very soon.

L. E. Bates was in Chicago on business a few days this week.

Miss Mattie Hammond spent last Tuesday in Chicago on business.

Colleges Fear Too Much Governmental Control: Refuse Aid

Clinton, N. Y., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Fearing "close control of education by the government," Hamilton College, through the current issue of the publication "Hamilton Life" let it be known today that it has declined to accept financial aid for its students, offered by the newly founded national youth administration.

Harvard and Williams have taken a similar stand against such Federal aid, the article continues.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Howard Buxton, pastor. The newly appointed pastor, the Reverend Howard Price Buxton, will conduct public worship at 10:45 and speak on "Keeping Up Our Enthusiasm." Mr. Buxton, reared on a farm in Kansas and educated at Northwestern University and Garrett Biblical Institute, has had his entire ministry to date in Chicago-land. He comes from a fruitful pastorate in Oak Park, the Cuyler Avenue Methodist church, and is highly fitted for service. While he is a bit younger than the out-going pastor, they have for years been close friends. It has been "Howard" and "Gilbert" in all their contacts. Mr. Buxton is a member of the World Service Council of which Dr. Stansell is chairman.

When asked this morning questions concerning his successor, Dr. Stansell said: "Dr. Buxton attended the conference here three years ago, and at that time fell in love with the community. He was entertained at Hazelwood at that time, and he and Mrs. Buxton have been guests of the Walgreens since that time, at least once. There are two other Buxtons, Robert, 11, and James, 10. Mr. and Mrs. Buxton shoot a good brand of golf.

Five years ago Dr. Buxton was able to rescue from death by drowning a ten-year-old boy, and for this heroic effort was awarded the Andrew Carnegie medal. The official story is as follows: "Howard P. Buxton, clergyman, saved Raymond K. Larson, aged ten, from drowning, Riverside, Ill., December 28, 1930. While sliding on ice that extended forty feet from the bank of DesPlaines river, Raymond slid over the edge into open water. He drifted twelve feet farther from the ice to the middle of the river. Ice extended from the other bank and was not more than an inch thick near its outer edge. Buxton who was heavily clothed, ran thirty-eight feet on ice from the other bank, jumped into the water, and swam fifteen feet to Raymond, who grabbed him. Buxton pushed him away, and then supporting him with one hand, he swam to the point from which he had jumped. Because of the numbness of his hands he was unable to climb upon the ice. He tried at least twice to raise himself and Raymond, but several inches of ice broke each time. A tree branch was extended to him by a man on the ice, and he got one arm over the branch and then pushed Raymond on the ice. He again tried to climb out and failed. Finally a rope, in which a loop had been made, was tossed to him. He got the loop over his head and under his arms, and was pulled upon firm ice."

By agreement between Dr. Stansell and Dr. Buxton each will return to his former pulpit for the evening service. Dr. Stansell will, therefore, give his last message in connection with his pastorate in Dixon Sunday evening at 7:30, his subject being "Well, What of It?" Everyone is very cordially invited to both the morning and evening services.

The Church school will convene at 9:45, and invites all to be present. The annual reports of the pastors of the Rock River conference made last week reveal the fact, the unhappy fact, that in every essential feature the Church school movement failed to gain over the previous year. Dr. Stansell's report, therefore, was a bit conspicuous in that it showed a gain for the Dixon school in all essential points. There is a place in this school for all in your home, and you are invited.

The mid-week service Wednesday evening, and to this service all are invited. Both Dr. Stansell and Dr. Buxton will move on Thursday, thus reducing the loss in ministerial service in the two parishes to the minimum.

Lizard Lived 16 Months in Concrete. Belleville, Ill., Oct. 11.—(AP)—A rather disgusted lizard entombed 16 months in the concrete floor of a garage was freed and crawled away, witnesses said, as though it had never been buried.

Workmen found the lizard in the garage of Martin W. Busekru when they tore up part of the floor to make a gas connection. A Belleville high school teacher said he believed moisture seeping up through the concrete from the ground had furnished sufficient nourishment to keep it alive.

APPROVE 24 ARMORIES

Chicago—Col. Lawrence V. Regan, chief of the staff of the Illinois National Guard, has announced approval by Washington for 24 new armories for Illinois to cost $4,700,000 as projects under the works progress administration. The sites for the buildings have not yet been selected. Regan said the list of 24 armories did not include an armory to be built at Rockford.

Due to the installation of new and faster planes improvement of landing fields and revision of route mileage, much faster schedules will be put into effect to points between the United States and Central and South America.

KEMPSTER HERO OF STORY OF G- MEN IN TRIBUNE

Former Head of State Police in This District Was Fearless

Oliver H. (Buck) Kempster, formerly in charge of the Illinois state police in this district, is the leading figure in the Chicago Tribune's exclusive articles on G-men by Doris Lockman, former confidential secretary in the Chicago bureau, United States Department of Justice this week.

The subject discussed is the failure of the G-men to get Verne Miller, the bloodthirsty chief killer in the Kansas City massacre. Mrs. Lockman accompanied the G-men on their raid, Kempster being a member of the party.

The G-men had located Miller and his woman, Vi Mathis. Mrs. Lockman was acquainted with the killer and was taken with the party to the apartment adjoining that of Miller and his female companion. Agents on the roof of a nearby building covered the entrance with machine guns and everything was set for the expected visit of the killer.

Agents Armed to Kill

There were five or six department of justice agents, all of whom I knew, of course," Mrs. Lockman says in a copyrighted story. "A grizzled Chicago detective sergeant was present, with two members of his squad. Our hostess, the agent's wife had retired. One of the agents sat with the receiver of the telephone tap tight to his ear.

"There was one more man in the room. Besides his chair rested one of those ungainly looking murderous weapons, a sub-machine gun. The man was 'Buck' Kempster, a state highway policeman. He did not have the look of a speed cop, however.

"His parents, who lived in a downstate town, were moderately wealthy. 'Buck' had been a freshman at the University of Illinois when we entered the World War. Lying breezily about his age, he enlisted. He learned to fire a machine gun in the same grim school which trained Verne Miller. He was to be the spearhead of the attack on Miller.

Exhaustion and Sleep

"At the moment, I was too weary to join in the casual conversation. I went into the bedroom, and in a few minutes was sleeping as soundly as if the morrow held nothing more exciting for me than the usual round of my boss' correspondence.

"I was sure I didn't sleep more than 15 minutes, but it was after dawn when I was awakened. At breakfast I was greeted by an old friend from Huron. He was Ed Notestein, whose father had been one of my professors at the college in our home town. He had become a department of justice agent, and the night before had flown to Chicago from Minneapolis to make the identification of Miller doubly sure.

"Thereafter we spelled each other at the lookout post. No matter how potent the cause, the human body will maintain the tension of high excitement only so long. Our party had passed that stage. I had forgotten long before about my shaking knees. Everybody grew more cheerful, less grim.

A Chuckling Manhunter

"Once, while Ed Notestein was on lookout duty, and I was relaxing in the living room, 'Buck' Kempster chuckled to himself. I looked at him inquiringly.

"I was thinking," he explained, "what a surprised lot of parents there's going to be around this neighborhood."

"Why?" I asked.

"When they find out that the nice lady who had their kiddies over to the party yesterday was one of Verne Miller's girl friends," he said.

"The hours passed, more and more slowly. At noon, from my position on the lookout stool, I helped our hostess cook luncheon for the crowd. During the afternoon, Ed Notestein and I conned over our information together.

Discuss Miller Disguises

"Miller, as we had known him more than ten years before, had been blond and smooth shaven. In recent months, we knew he had dyed his hair red and grown a mustache. We were prepared to discount his disguise.

"The afternoon began, Vi Mathis' door remained closed. As the autumn twilight began to fall, a boy came up the stairway and knocked at her door. He had a man's suit, returned from the tailor. The tension began to build itself up again. Things were starting to happen.

"An hour later, the agent at the tap on Vi Mathis' phone suddenly bent forward in intense concentration. He listened for a minute. Then he whirled, spoke in a whisper hoarse with excitement.

"It was Vi Mathis," he said. "She called the Moore woman. Told her they wanted to go for a ride. Bobbie Moore's coming down now to get her car!"

"The room seemed about to burst with silent excitement. The agents slipped off the safety catches on their pistols. The wife who had been our hostess kissed her husband, clung to him for a moment. 'Buck' Kempster picked up his machine gun and took his post at the half opened door. Ed Notestein and I hurried to the lookout post. It was the zero hour.

"We waited. Five minutes passed. Would that door down the hall never open? Ten minutes. Even whispering had died in the apartment. Then the knob turned. Vi

Mathis stepped out. A man followed, walked up the hall by her side. The hall was gloomy. Was he Verne Miller?

The Signal At Last

"Yes, it's Miller!" I whispered. "You're right," answered Notestein in a moment.

"He jumped for the living room door.

"It's Miller," he said. "Go ahead." "Buck" Kempster slammed the door back. He surged forward, machine gun ready. The detective sergeant and the agents were at his heels. Miller by this time was at the stair door. At the sight of Kempster, he was galvanized to action. One hand went for his gun. The other flung the door open. Before Kempster could fire, Miller leaped down the stairs. He slammed the door.

"I saw the agents rush forward, stumbling over each other in their eagerness. Two of them seized Vi Mathis. Kempster jumped for the stair door. For all he knew, the mad gunman might be waiting on the other side. He didn't hesitate. Throwing the door open, he plunged forward.

"Verne Miller, the crazed leader of the Kansas City massacre, was trapped by the Chicago G-men. By an eyelash he escaped capture on the second floor of the Sherone hotel. His woman, Vi Mathis, was caught. Miller plunged down the stairs to the lobby. Hot on his heels was 'Buck' Kempster, state policeman and crack machine gunner. Between Miller and safety stood a half dozen G-men.

"In the crowded minute Miller bluffed his way past them. The lobby was full of guests leaving the hotel after dinner. As he entered it he sheathed his gun, slackened his pace to a hurried walk. Swiftly he strode to the front door. As he reached the entrance there was a shout from Kempster at the rear of the lobby. Miller plunged out to the street.

"Sheer Luck Saves Miller. "Had they rehearsed it a dozen times, his meeting with Bobbie Moore, his 'second string' woman, could not have been timed more perfectly. Miller hurried past the agents waiting outside the hotel before they could identify him.

"At that exact moment Bobbie Moore drew up across the street in her roadster. Miller paused as he opened the door of the car. He whipped two swift shots back toward the hotel. 'Buck' Kempster out the hotel door. He raised his machine gun.

"Then came the last of the perfectly timed coincidences which defeated the carefully laid plans of the agents. Kempster had his finger on the trigger. Miller was covered. At that moment a man drove down the street in a big limousine. A perfectly innocent citizen, out for an evening ride. For perhaps a second his car screened Bobbie Moore's Kempster had to hold his fire.

"First Raid a Dismal Flop. "In that second Miller leaped into the car. Bobbie sped away, the tears of her car screaming. With a mighty oath, Kempster ran to the middle of the street. His machine gun loosed a staccato roar. The rear of the fleeing car was torn by a dozen slugs. But Miller had made his escape. The first big raid of the Chicago G-men had ended in dismal failure.

"As Bobbie drove Verne Miller away from 'Buck' Kempster's spitting machine gun, one of the slugs tore through the curtain behind her. The bullet creased her shoulder, inflicting a burn rather than a wound. That was the only injury she or Miller suffered."

Professor Wilhelm Lohr of Magdeburg.

During the last two years this treatment has been applied in a number of hospitals and institutions, and in private practice in various parts of the world. The resultant opinion supports the original impression to the effect that burns and infected wounds do well when treated with crude cod-liver oil.

Since this substance is readily available and can be easily used, it might serve as a desirable first-aid treatment in the case of burns where tannic acid solutions are not available. In fact some medical experts even prefer the crude cod-liver oil treatment to the tannic acid treatment.

One of the advantages in treating burns with crude cod-liver oil is that one is not required, as when tannic acid is used, to handle the injured skin much in an attempt to remove foreign matter.

The cod-liver oil can be doused on and will reach the skin even through overlying layers of clothing, dirt and so on.

The preferred method of applying crude cod-liver oil to burns is by soaking strips of lint (ordinary gauze will do) in the oil and applying them to the burned area. The lint is left in place for at least 48 hours. The coverings, however, are kept saturated with cod-liver oil by periodic addition of oil.

Precisely how crude cod-liver oil effects these beneficent results is not as yet understood, but there unquestionably is a something in the crude cod-liver oil which has a natural affinity for the skin and underlying tissues which favors healing with a minimum amount of scar tissue formation.

The GOLDEN FEATHER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JEAN DUNN, pretty, 21, is assistant to DONALD MONTAGUE, lawyer. BOBBY WALLACE, automobile salesman, has frequently asked her to marry him, but Jean delays her answer.

At The Golden Feather night club she meets SANDY HARRIS, who says he is in love with her.

LARRY GLENN, federal agent, warns Jean and Bobby against spending much time in places like The Golden Feather, saying he is trying to trail WINGY LEWIS, bank robber.

Jean goes horseback riding with Sandy. He sends her flowers, takes her to lunch. She and Bobby go to The Golden Feather again and see Sandy there with Mr. and Mrs. LEWIS. They all go to the Lewis apartment.

Lewis tells Bobby he wants to buy a car, "a special job" worth $12,000. He shows him some bonds worth $12,000 and says if Bobby can sell them for him he will buy the car and Bobby will have $2000 profit. Bobby promises to think about it. Late that night he calls Jean, says he thinks her boss might buy the bonds.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER IX

JEAN said, trying to clear her brain of the sleep which the ringing telephone had interrupted. "But, Bobby, what makes you think you can sell anything to Mr. Montague? And how can I introduce you to him, anyhow? After all, I'm only his stenographer, and—"

"You leave all that to me," said Bobby confidently.

So the next day Bobby did call Jean. Only the fact that Mr. Montague always seemed to take a kindly, rather fatherly interest in her served her to try to make the acquaintance for him, but after a good deal of fumbling around she managed to persuade him to set an hour when Bobby could try his salesmanship on him.

She thanked him and, when she got a chance, called Bobby and gave him the news.

"Wish me luck?" asked Bobby. "Why, of course."

"Thanks. And say, honey, how do you want the living room papered, anyhow? Personally, I always liked a dark, plain paper, but if you want some of that light, figured stuff a person sees so much of these days, why—"

"Bobby Wallace, what are you talking about?"

"Why, our new apartment, of course—the one we're going to have after Mr. Montague buys these bonds off me."

"Bobby, listen . . . I'm not—don't rush me, I mean this time, I told you I wasn't ready to marry anybody yet, and—"

"Oh, all right. But if I ever get that money in my hands, the rush is going to be something terrible."

When he hung up she stared at her typewriter and wondered what had made her say that. Only the day before she had insisted to Sandy that she was "practically engaged" to Bobby; today, when Bobby mentioned the matter, she had reminded him that perhaps the engagement wasn't so very definite after all. Why did she seem to have an impulse to head Bobby off when he spoke of marriage?

"I'm still too young to get married," she told herself doubtfully. Far down somewhere she heard her conscience jeering at her.

The next afternoon Bobby presented himself at the office promptly at 2. Mr. Montague was busy, at the moment, and Bobby had to wait some 15 minutes before he could get in, and the door to Mr. Montague's private office had hardly closed behind him before Mr. Montague opened it slightly, stuck his head out, and said, "Oh, by the way, Miss Dunn, I've nothing more for you this afternoon; why don't you go home?"

She looked at him for a moment, and then instead of replying, looked away. They were out of the downtown district already, heading east along one of the thorough boulevards. She looked at her wrist watch and turned again to Sandy with a little frown.

"Sandy, take me back now. I told you I had to meet someone."

"What time's your date for?"

"Well, it isn't exactly a date."

"Oh—you mean you didn't have an agreement to meet anybody? You were just going to meet 'em on your own hook?"

She looked at him for a moment, and then instead of replying, looked away. They were out of the downtown district already, heading east along one of the thorough boulevards. She looked at her wrist watch and turned again to Sandy with a little frown.

"Sandy, take me back now. I told you I had to meet someone."

Jean stared at her typewriter . . . and wondered why she seemed to have the impulse to head Bobby off whenever he spoke of marriage.

Pleased to have most of the afternoon off, she hastened to leave; and it was not until she had got down to the lobby that she realized that Bobby would undoubtedly be anxious to see her as soon as he came out.

"I'll just kill a little time in the shops, and then wait for him in the lobby," she thought. So she strolled out to the sidewalk—and found Sandy standing there, a straw hat tipped jauntily over one ear, smoking a cigarette.

"Well, now isn't this nice?" he said. "And me just hoping someone like you would come wandering out of there."

He grinned, and stopped. She discovered that he had led her to the door of his roadster. "Hop in," he said.

"I can't," she said. "I've—I've got to wait for somebody."

"Oh, we'll just ride around for 10 or 15 minutes and then come back. Come on."

She found herself obeying, and before she could find another word to say the car had moved away from the curb and Sandy was guiding it through traffic.

"This isn't really a date, you know," he said.

"Isn't it?"

"My, no! I can't be having dates with a woman that's practically engaged. Anyhow, it looks like I can't. Say, sister, when are you going to forget about that gag, anyhow?"

They got out, and in a few moments Jean was reclining luxuriously in a canoe, which Sandy, seated in the stern facing her, was sending upstream with practiced, seemingly effortless strokes.

THEY went up the river for nearly a mile, and then Sandy paddled into a quiet backwater beneath an overhanging willow tree, let the bow swing slowly downstream, and then kept the canoe from drifting by jabbing the paddle into the mud of the river bottom and hooking one elbow around it. Jean had a moment's fear that he might want to share her place in the bottom of the canoe; but the thought seemed not to enter his head, and he remained where he was, looking down at her, idly smoking, and talking in his customary half-mocking drawl.

At last, when the tree's shadows had lengthened to touch the opposite bank, Sandy sat up, pulled the paddle up, swished the blade through the water to wash off the dark stains, and started back to the boathouse. And when they got there Jean discovered that she was hungry, so they ate dinner in the unpretentious little restaurant, at a table on a rickety veranda overlooking the water.

By the time they had finished it was nearly dark. Sandy led the way out to the car; and when they had got in he paused, with one hand on the ignition switch, to look up at her and say, "Well, what do you say about a long ride, now, and come home by moonlight?"

She hesitated, then shook her head.

"Please not, Sandy," she said. "I've got to be home tonight."

To her surprise he did not insist. He started the car and drove her to her apartment with all due dispatch. On the way he had little to say; but when he drove to the curb at her door he grinned at her and said, "Now, there was no harm done, was there, by our having a little date for ourselves?"

She shook her head and smiled. "Well, then—how about another, some time, soon?"

"Sandy, you're the most insistent person . . . Well, see."

He laughed joyfully and opened the door for her. To her surprise he did not try to kiss her good night; he simply sat at the wheel and watched her as she crossed the walk and entered the building.

As she came into her apartment the telephone was ringing. She answered, to hear Bobby's voice: "Hey, where you been? I been trying to get you," he said, excitedly. "Listen, Jean—Mr. Montague's going to buy those bonds—and I'm going to make two thousand dollars on the deal!"

lous groceries in and about Earlville and had gotten as far as the viaduct under the Burlington tracks about three or four miles west of Naperville. A car which had been following the truck for some distance drew alongside and at the point of a gun Frey was forced to stop and get out of the truck into the car. He was driven about for three hours and at 4 o'clock was returned to the same spot where his truck was standing empty. He was then allowed to drive away. The load was not insured against the theft and the loss of it must be born by the trucker.

Many farmers are harvesting soy beans as grain for the first time and are wondering what precautions to take in storing the beans. The crop this year in the six bean growing states is estimated to be nearly twice that of 1934, and three times that of the six-year average, (1928-1933) says the crop reporting service. A higher than usual proportion of the total acreage will be harvested for beans because there was an abundance of hay in most cases this year.

thought seemed not to enter his head, and he remained where he was, looking down at her, idly smoking, and talking in his customary half-mocking drawl.

At last, when the tree's shadows had lengthened to touch the opposite bank, Sandy sat up, pulled the paddle up, swished the blade through the water to wash off the dark stains, and started back to the boathouse. And when they got there Jean discovered that she was hungry, so they ate dinner in the unpretentious little restaurant, at a table on a rickety veranda overlooking the water.

By the time they had finished it was nearly dark. Sandy led the way out to the car; and when they had got in he paused, with one hand on the ignition switch, to look up at her and say, "Well, what do you say about a long ride, now, and come home by moonlight?"

She hesitated, then shook her head.

"Please not, Sandy," she said. "I've got to be home tonight."

To her surprise he did not insist. He started the car and drove her to her apartment with all due dispatch. On the way he had little to say; but when he drove to the curb at her door he grinned at her and said, "Now, there was no harm done, was there, by our having a little date for ourselves?"

She shook her head and smiled. "Well, then—how about another, some time, soon?"

"Sandy, you're the most insistent person . . . Well, see."

He laughed joyfully and opened the door for her. To her surprise he did not try to kiss her good night; he simply sat at the wheel and watched her as she crossed the walk and entered the building.

As she came into her apartment the telephone was ringing. She answered, to hear Bobby's voice: "Hey, where you been? I been trying to get you," he said, excitedly. "Listen, Jean—Mr. Montague's going to buy those bonds—and I'm going to make two thousand dollars on the deal!"

A car which had been following the truck for some distance drew alongside and at the point of a gun Frey was forced to stop and get out of the truck into the car. He was driven about for three hours and at 4 o'clock was returned to the same spot where his truck was standing empty. He was then allowed to drive away. The load was not insured against the theft and the loss of it must be born by the trucker.

BIG TEN TEAMS CHANCES DIM THIS WEEK-END

Non-League Foes are Rated Equal in Some Cases

Chicago, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The Big Ten goes out of its own back yard for football competition Saturday with pretty fair prospects of winding up loser on the day's business.

The conference can't lose anything at Ann Arbor, Mich., where Indiana and Michigan clash in the only game of the title schedule. The Hoosiers merit the edge, but the Wolverines appeared to be finding themselves in practice and might produce an upset.

In intersectional warfare the Big Ten seems certain of two victories and just as sure of one licking. Whether a profit is shown at Minnesota depends on the calibre of its warfare against strictly A-one foes.

Ohio State's galaxy figures to carry too many reserves for Drake, and Chicago should be able to look after Western State Teachers of Kalamazoo, Mich. one of the toughest of the midwest's smaller schools. Wisconsin, however, would need to accomplish a gridiron miracle to spoil Notre Dame's first invasion of Big Ten territory this season. The Badgers have been known to arise to dizzy heights on occasions, but the steadily improving and powerfully manned Irish appear to have a big edge.

Illini Meet U. S. C.

Illinois meets Southern California handicapped by injuries and taking the worst of it in playing conditions. However, wily Bob Zuppke more often than not, has wrought upsets against apparently stronger intersectional opponents, and the Illini may surprise the Trojans, California weather and all.

Minnesota, potentially powerful, but unimpressive in its first start two weeks ago, rates as no better than an even choice against Nebraska. The Gophers have a big, talented squad, but Nebraska has Lloyd Cardwell, ranked as a coming all America back, and so far highly effective supporting cast.

Colgate, primed with one of the country's most intricate and effective offenses, is favored over Iowa, but not by much. The Red Raiders have the bulge in experience, but in Dick Crayne, Dwight Hoover and the spectacular Negro, Ozzie Simmons, the Hawkeyes have ammunition enough to cheat the dose.

Purdue tackles Fordham at New York, rated as the underdog. The Boilermakers apparently have the makings of a powerful team, but will not be at their best Saturday unless John Drake and Cecil Isbell, regular backs, and Forest Burmeister, veteran tackle, all casualties are available.

U. S. C. AWAITING ILLINOIS UNDER BROILING SUN

Zuppke Not Worried Over Trojans' Grid Tricks

Los Angeles, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Finishing touches to an open attack designed to fight fire with fire were to be put on the University of Southern California football team today by Coach Howard Jones in the last practice for the Illinois game Saturday.

All week long Troy has been groomed on flanker formations; balanced line; back in motion and all that sort of thing as a counter-attack to the razzle-dazzle plays expected from Coach Bob Zuppke's Illini.

But before he took his squad out from Tucson early today, Coach Zuppke let it be known he had no fear of Troy's football innovations.

Today's workout was expected to be light with Coach Jones very careful lest his already heavy casualty list be increased. His starting quarterback at the opening of the season, Dave Davis, is definitely out, and Glenn Thompson, second in line, probably will see little action.

Reports from Arizona were just as bad. Zuppke entertains no hope of seeing Les Lindberg, his star, in action. Other members of the squad are not in the best of shape due to slight ailments of one nature or another. To make the invaders' problems more acute, the weatherman promised unseasonably warm weather for them on Saturday.

California's border-checking stations recovered 47 stolen automobiles in the first six months of 1935.

Rock Falls Will Play Amboy Team Homecoming Tilt

Amboy Township high's football team entertains Rock Falls in a Homecoming game at Amboy, Saturday afternoon in the second Rock River Valley conference engagement for the hosts. The game will begin at 2 p. m.

The Scarlets of Coach James Dominetta lost their opening non-conference game with Mendota 7 to 6 and then downed Polo in the opening league battle 7 to 0, featured by the work of Capt. Jay Smith and Neil Smith.

Not Up to Par.

Rock Falls although always a tough outfit is not up to par this year. They absorbed a 33 to 0 defeat by Dixon in their first game but with a heavy forward wall they will be dangerous unless they have failed to develop a harder charging, harder-blocking team.

ANNUAL BASE-BALL BANQUET HELD LAST EVE

Steward Fans and Invited Guests Enjoyed Yearly Affair

The largest crowd which has ever attended one of the annual baseball banquets at Steward, assembled in the new gymnasium of the high school last evening, numbering 150 men from that vicinity and invited guests. The American league fans were the guests of the National league followers as the result of Detroit's having captured the national championship from the Chicago Cubs. LeRoy Herrmann, a product of the vicinity of Steward, and Lee county's only big leaguer, was a guest of honor during the evening. Herrmann is at present a member of the Cincinnati Reds' pitching staff and is a former Chicago Cub twirler.

The fine banquet was served by the members of the Ladies' Sewing Circle of Steward. The committee in charge this year was composed of Stoddard Danekeas, Leslie Lathrop and Millard M. Fell. The latter opened the program by introducing Attorney Clarence E. Gardner of Rochelle, a Cub fan of many years, who told the fans, "the American people are strictly enthusiasts when it comes to baseball, and this is applicable to every section of the country."

The hosts for the evening did not overlook the smallest item in making the event the largest and best that has ever been held. An orchestra furnished music throughout the serving of the banquet. The following were called upon by the toastmaster and responded with short talks: LeRoy Herrmann, Steward; Attorney H. C. Warner, Dixon; State's Attorney Edward Jones, Dixon; Deputy Sheriff Gilbert P. Finch, Dixon; County Judge William L. Leech, Dixon; Senator George C. Dixon, Dixon; E. L. Fulmer, Dixon; Frank Carney, Rochelle; Francis X. Newcomer, Dixon; William Daum, Steward; Postmaster Thomas Kirby, Steward; John Sweeney, Rochelle; Lucian D. Hemenway, Steward; Henry A. Knetisch, Paw Paw; Charles K. Willett, Dixon, and Superintendent J. M. Thompson of the Steward school.

HAWKEYES GET FAVORED ROLE OVER COLGATE

Nebraska May Be the Nemesis of The Gopher Team

BY HERBERT W. BARKER (A. P. Sports Writer.)

New York, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Strictly on the assumption that one man's guess may be as good as another's, here's the way this week's football program seems to line up:

Nebraska - Minnesota: Unless Bernie Bierman can pull football players out of a hat, Minnesota definitely will be nowhere near so strong as the undefeated Gopher array of last year. Nebraska just as definitely is on the way back to the top with a high-powered offense built around flashy Lloyd Cardwell. The Cornhuskers are entitled to the call.

Penn-Yale: The Quakers, beaten by Princeton in a heart-breaker last week, will have to watch out for the trickiest offense any Yale team has had. Whether the Elis have the line to go with a fine backfield is the big question mark. A ballot for Penn.

Sleight of Hand.

Iowa-Colgate: Perhaps the most exciting game of the day with Colgate's sleight-of-hand pitted against Iowa speed as exemplified by Ozzie Simmons and Dick Crayne. Taking the long trip into consideration, a doubtful nod in Iowa's direction.

Auburn-Tennessee: Auburn's defeat of Tulane plus Tennessee's beating by North Carolina should add up to an Auburn victory. But this observer's mathematics point to Tennessee.

Southern California - Illinois: There's little of the old power in the Trojan outfit, but will string along with Howard Jones for at least another week.

Stanford-UCLA: Here's the spot, perhaps, for the day's biggest upset, for Bill Spaulding's Uclans look plenty tough. This ballot for Stanford can be attributed most to lack of courage.

Rams Dangerous.

Fordham-Purdue: It's considered good football policy to bet on the Big Ten in its tussles with the East, but Jimmy Crowley has plenty of manpower at Fordham. A timid ballot for Fordham.

Notre Dame - Wisconsin: Notre Dame should have no real trouble with a disorganized team. Manhattan-Louisiana State: A ballot for the Southerners.

Temple-Vanderbilt: Dave Smukler has been thoroughly stopped this season, but with a new backfield flash, Vince Renzo, the Temple Owls look good enough to take this Friday night game.

Columbia - Rutgers: Columbia, but it may be close.

New York University-Carnegie Tech: Out on the limb with N. Y. U.

Syracuse-Cornell: No pick but Syracuse here.

Villanova-Bucknell: Two sturdy outfits with Villanova rating the edge.

Harvard - Holy Cross: Injuries seem to have wrecked whatever chance the Crimson had of stopping Holy Cross.

Pitt - West Virginia: After a struggle, Pitt.

Penn State-Western Maryland: Influenced by State's trouble with Lebanon Valley last week, Western Maryland.

Indiana Strong.

Michigan-Indiana: Bo McMillin has been weeping for a month at Indiana, but it looks like Michigan will need the consolation.

Ohio State-Drake: Ohio State without an argument.

Michigan State-Kansas: Michigan State.

Missouri-Columbia: A flier on Colorado University.

Alabama-Mississippi State: Alabama.

Tulane-Florida: Despite that Auburn defeat, Tulane.

Kentucky-Georgia Tech: There's possible dynamite in this one. A faint-hearted nod to Kentucky.

Duke-Clemson: Duke, but the Blue Devils must tend to their knitting.

Maryland-North Carolina: North Carolina.

Rice-Creighton: Rice although Marchie Schwartz has developed a strong team at Creighton.

Texas-Oklahoma: A tough one that this corner would prefer to pass up. Heading the call of duty, Oklahoma.

Texas Christian.

Tulsa-Texas Christian: Christian.

Baylor-Arkansas: A shot in the dark, Arkansas.

Washington University-Southern Methodist: S. M. U.

Oregon-California: California, though the Golden Bears may not like that trip into the North.

Montana - Washington State: Washington State.

Duquesne-Catholic: A Friday night game that Catholic, if all reports be true, figures to win.

Marquette-Kansas State: Close perhaps, but Marquette looks good.

Detroit-Oklahoma A. & M.: Detroit.

Utah-Montana State: Utah.

Wyoming-Denver: Denver looks good.

Colorado Mines-Colorado State: A ballot for the Aggies.

Greeley-Brigham Young: Greeley.

Oregon State-Gonzaga: Oregon State, after a struggle.

George Pierce, Ex-Big League Pitcher, Died After Operation

Joliet, Ill., Oct. 11.—(AP)—George G. Pierce, 47, former major league baseball pitcher, died today following an operation performed last Friday.

Pierce saw service with five major league clubs, but was with the Cubs in his heyday. He had brief careers with the Boston Braves and Red Sox, New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals. In addition with minor league clubs at Buffalo, Augusta, Kansas City and Lansing, Mich.

His home was at Plainfield, Ill.

RED RAIN WINS MUCH SUPPORT FOR FUTURITY

Whitney Colt Will Not Be Favored For Victory

New York, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Despite his disappointing performance four days ago, C. V. Whitney's Red Rain rallied plenty of support today as upwards of a score of two-year-olds were pointed for the $100,000 futurity at Belmont park tomorrow.

Although severely beaten in the nursery stakes, the big chestnut appeared more like the horse that came from behind to take the Hopeful at Saratoga when he revealed off five furlongs in 59 3-5 seconds yesterday.

He ran down the Widener straightaway over which the futurity will be decided at six and one-half furlongs.

With little Joe Wagner handling the reins, the sons of Pennant stepped the first eighth of a mile in 11 4-5 seconds, the quarter in 22 4-5, three furlongs in 34 3-5 and the half-mile in 46 3-5.

Bar Plate Off

The bar plates, which he wore in the Nursery, were taken off. So impressive was the workout that T. J. Healey, head trainer of the Whitney Stable, said he would run tomorrow free of the plates.

Alfred Robertson will be brought from New England to ride the Whitney ace. The lanky jockey was up on Red Rain in the colt's debut at Saratoga.

Sonny Workman will be up on Tatterdemalion, a Whitney colt which has failed to run to expectations.

Despite his impressive trial, Red Rain probably will not rule the favorite. The honor is expected to go to E. D. Shaffer's Coldstream, the big son of Bull Dog from Kentucky, which raced Red Rain to a dead heat in the Saratoga Special and then took his measure in the Nursery.

Washington Grid Captain on Spot

Seattle, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Dan Lazarevich, University of Washington football captain, is on the spot—between two curfews.

He was appointed member of a men's student committee to enforce curfew rules, a job which sometimes might keep him up until 1 A. M.

"Dan Lazarevich has plenty to worry about besides whether the girls are home on time," snorted Coach James Phelan when he heard about it. "I don't know anything about this curfew house curfew, but I know what his curfew is. It's 10 o'clock."

Lazarevich's home is in Chicago.

Most of Ohio's Football Squad on State Salary

Columbus, O., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Governor Martin L. Davey asserted today that most of the members of Ohio State University's football team were on the state payroll.

The executive, in a prepared statement, referred to assertions by university spokesmen that it would have to close down within a week unless it were provided funds for maintenance as an "amusing and frantic effort to build up a gaunt specter of shut-down."

University officials said earlier in the week that only $360 remained in the maintenance fund. When the 700 tons of coal that remained is exhausted, they said, the university would have to close down. If the university should close, football team members would be ineligible to play in Big Ten competition.

Davey asserted there is $15,000 available to purchase coal for the school.

"As far as the football season is concerned, we are extremely interested in its success. We recognize the fact that football has become the supreme purpose of higher education," the executive stated.

"We have certainly done our part because we have most of the football team on the state payroll and we are exceedingly anxious for a most successful season. We want them to secure the championship by all means and have cooperated to the fullest extent to make this possible. Our financial cooperation, our fervent good wishes and fondest hopes and even our prayers are with them."

RUNYAN LEADS LOUISVILLE'S OPEN TOURNEY

Ghezzi Trails By A Single Stroke With a 68

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Shooting four strokes under par on the first 18 holes, Little Paul Runyon, 130-pound White Plains, N. Y., professional and P. G. A. champion, today led the field with a sizzling 67 as the Louisville $5,000 Open went into its second day of medal play.

Runyon missed a 14-foot putt on the 18th hole at dusk yesterday, thereby losing an opportunity to tie the course record of 66. He zoomed around the first nine holes in 34, the second nine in 33.

A stroke behind Runyan with 68 was Victor Ghezzi, holder of the Los Angeles open title. Al Zimmerman, Portland, Ore., northwest open titlist, and Teri Johnson of Winter Haven, Fla., tied for third with 69 each.

In all a half dozen professional golfers clipped par, with other favorites yet to be heard from, as part of the field were grouped in first rounds today. Richard Burton, a member of the British Ryder Cup team and former British P. G. A. champion, and Bill Kaiser, Louisville, each finished with 70, one under par on the Audubon Country club course.

Monarchist Leader of Greek Government

Athens, Oct. 10.—(AP)—The government of Premier Tsaldaris resigned today and the monarchist leader, General George Kondylis, minister of war, took the helm. The resignation came in a swift move that climaxed a week's dispute over a monarchy and is expected to set the stage for the return of former King George to the throne.

President Alexander Zaimis, whose office has hung in the balance for weeks, is preparing his resignation in readiness to step down at the opportune moment. Kondylis—"The Little Corporal"—to his intimates who are familiar with his adoration of Alexander the Great and Napoleon—who has been openly charged by his opponents with desiring to emulate the dictatorship of Mussolini in Italy, took the portfolios of president of the council and the minister of economics.

MICKY AFTER ROOKIES TO TAKE HIS POSITION

Young Texas Leaguer is Thought Good Prospect For the Job

Detroit, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Mickey Cochrane, sparkplug manager-catcher of the world champion Tigers, isn't hanging up his spikes for some time to come, but nevertheless he is accumulating several youngsters who may understudy him.

Although Cochrane is only 32 years old, he has done a lot of work since he entered the American League in 1925, averaging around 120 games a year, exclusive of World Series contests. He has participated in more than 30 of these.

Young Frankie Reiber, third string backstop on the Tiger squad this year, has been coming along for a year under Cochrane tutelage. Discovered by "Wish" Eagan, Tiger scout, the Battle Creek youngster became a sensation in the Texas league the year before he joined the Tiger squad, and before he put on a Bengal uniform, the Detroit club scooped at a $40,000 offer for him.

Reiber developed a mental hazard soon after coming up, and lost his throwing accuracy.

Hay Hayworth, who has played second fiddle to Cochrane for the past two seasons, chiefly against left-handed pitching, is established as the No. 2 Tiger backstop, but he is only a couple of years younger than Cochrane.

Damage Suit Filed Two Days After Fatal Auto Accident

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 11.—(AP)—Suit for $10,000 damages was filed Wednesday in Henderson Circuit court by the Farmers Bank & Trust Company, administrator for Andrew Turner, 50, negro, against A. C. Geldmacher, 71, Elgin, Ill., manufacturer, whose automobile is alleged to have struck and fatally injured the Negro late Tuesday afternoon in a highway south of here. The petition charged Geldmacher with "careless operation of his automobile." The Illinois manufacturer was dismissed from a local hospital yesterday after receiving treatment for shock and cuts about the hands.
